Information & Management serves managers, professionals, database administrators and senior executives of organizations which design, implement and manage Information Systems Applications. The major aims are:

- To collect and disseminate information on new and advanced developments in the field of applied information systems
- To provide material for training and education in administrative data systems
- To encourage further progress in information systems methodology and applications
- To cover the range of information system development and usage in their use of managerial policies, strategies, and activities for business, public administration, and international organizations

Information & Management is currently under the Editorship of Prof. Edgar Sibley. Under his guidance, the Journal has gained an excellent reputation in the field, its latest Impact Factor© being 2.282.

We are soliciting applications for a (Co) Editor-in-Chief, starting in January 2012. Primary qualifications for consideration include:

- Strategic vision for the positioning and improvement of the Journal
- Strong research record and evidence of leadership in the field
- Ability to dedicate a fairly substantial portion of annual workload to managing Journal activities

The Co-Editor will focus on increasing submissions and handling the review process, while Prof. Sibley continues to edit and perfect the final accepted manuscripts. The new Editor would be well-placed to oversee implementation of technological advancements, ensuring the Journal is up-to-date and the first point of submission for authors.

Applications are due by 30th April 2011, and should include:

1) A brief proposal, outlining a strategic vision for managing the Journal
2) A full CV

Applications will be reviewed throughout May, with a final decision reached on 1st June 2011. Applications, questions or suggestions should be sent to: Jessica Bibb (Publisher), j.bibb@elsevier.com.

Best wishes,

Edgar Sibley (Editor-in-Chief) and
