

Publishers note

It is with great regret that we have to inform you that Prof. Ken'ichi Nomoto has chosen to retire from his editorial position with New Astronomy Reviews. His retirement will be effective October 1st, 2009.

Prof. Nomoto has been very instrumental to the journal's success to get and keep it at a high standard. The Publisher is deeply grateful to Prof. Nomoto for his work over many years in helping New Astronomy Reviews reach the position it has achieved today. His contributions as a supernova expert to the field, and to our Journal, cannot be overstated.
