

17th International Symposium on Homogeneous Catalysis

July 4-9, 2010 Poznań, Poland

Organized by
Adam Mickiewicz
University UAM

Poznań
2010
ISHC-17

The Symposium programme will cover all areas of homogeneous and organometallic catalysis and focus on recent research achievements and ideas on new catalytic reactions, well-known processes occurring in the presence of new effective homogeneous and immobilized catalysts, new mechanisms of catalysis. Particular emphasis will be put on sustainable catalytic processes of key importance in organic synthesis (fine and specialty chemicals, pharmaceuticals) as well as in synthesis of polymers and precursors of advanced materials.
